VICTORIAN CHRISTMAS

Education workshops at Portland Basin museum

This workshop is led by a costumed facilitator in character. Participants will experience a Victorian Christmas through discussion and activities. Initially they will walk along the traditionally decorated 'Old Street' stopping under the lamp post to sing a festive carol. Each will see our 'two up, two down' parlour decorated in all its splendour and discuss the magical traditions established and brought to this country by Queen Victoria and King Albert.

Time will be spent sitting beneath the decorated tree looking at and comparing toys and traditional parlour games. The class will also have the opportunity to make paper chains to decorate the tree and take back to school.

Suitable for Key Stage 1 - 4
