

Draw a Pterodactyl

Pterodactyls also lived in the Late Jurassic Period. They weren't actually dinosaurs but flying lizards! Follow the simple step by step instructions and see if you can draw one.

body      head      head and mouth      triangle at back head mouth: 2 triangles with 2 straight sides      bigger triangle at top      feet      legs wings      arms      face      long triangle stripes      teeth toes

Now could you draw a flock of pterodactyls flying in different directions? Think about breaking them up into shapes the same way you did with the one above. Start with their head and body, then neck and feet, then their wings.
