Updated guidance on the use of face coverings in education

We have updated our guidance on the use of face coverings in education to reflect the end of National Restrictions on 2 December and to provide details on how face coverings should be used under the local restriction tiers.

Consistent with the World Health Organisation’s advice, schools and colleges should take additional precautionary measures in areas defined as either tier 2 or tier 3 under the local restriction tier system. Information on the local restriction tiers can be found in the full list of local restriction tiers by area guidance.

When an area moves to the local restriction tier 2 or tier 3, in education settings where year 7 and above are educated, face coverings should be worn by adults (staff and visitors) and pupils when moving around indoors, such as in corridors and communal areas where social distancing is difficult to maintain. As in the general approach, it will not usually be necessary to wear face coverings in the classroom, where protective measures already mean the risks are lower, and they may inhibit teaching and learning.

Updated guidance on the use of face coverings when travelling to school or college

Face coverings are an important measure in reducing the transmission of coronavirus (COVID-19), particularly in enclosed spaces. Children aged 11 and over are required to wear a face covering on public transport in England, unless exempt for health, age or disability reasons.

From 2 December, in accordance with advice from Public Health England, children and young people aged 11 and over must wear a face covering when travelling on dedicated transport to secondary school or college, unless they are exempt.

Schools should support local authorities in promoting the use of face coverings when travelling to and from school or college and help them to resolve any issues of non-compliance where appropriate.

The ‘Hands. Face. Space.’ campaign urges everyone to continue to wash their hands, cover their face and make space to control infection rates. The NHS has released a ‘Hands. Face. Space.’ video that may be a useful resource when communicating the importance of wearing a face covering on transport directly to children and young people.

Further information on face coverings can be found in our guidance on transport to school and other places of education: 2020 to 2021 academic year.
