OUTDOOR EDUCATION

DELIVERING DIFFERENTLY

As schools return, outdoor learning needs to be a central part of each school's efforts to maintain restricted social bubbles and distance between pupils. Tameside Culture's Outdoor Education Team have been looking at how we can use our years of experience and resources to support schools when they return.

All indications suggest that schools will return with social distancing measures in place and we see the space that our local countryside offers as being key to doing this successfully.

The challenges of transport alone will mean we have to change the way we deliver our outdoor workshops, whether its by working with smaller groups or delivering sessions nearer to school. As outdoor educators ourselves, we understand the challenges this also brings. We want to use our experience to develop something that genuinely works and will really help teachers and educators during what could be a difficult transition

Please feel free to contact us with any queries or just to have a chat about how we can help over the coming months.

DELIVERING DIFFERENTLY

INVESTIGATING RIVERS

DIFFERENTLY

We can deliver this workshop as a full day for a smaller group of pupils at a reduced rate or condense into a half day session with a group in the morning and another in the afternoon .

For a shorter day we would do all activities in and by the river- collecting data, measuring flow, investigating the riverbank ,kick sapling to find pollution indicators and looking for fossils.

PLANTS & LIVING THINGS

DELIVERING
DIFFERENTLY

We can deliver this workshop as a full day for a smaller group of pupils at a reduced rate or condense into a half day session with a group in the morning and another in the afternoon

Alternatively we can help find a greenspace site within walking distance from school and tailor the session to suit. We will bring all the equipment and resources.
